Racing Leadership

Ron Winchell
Co-Managing Partner

The Winchell name is immediately recognizable in racing circles. Ron Winchell oversees his family's Winchell Thoroughbreds, a high-end racing and breeding operation located on his 320-acre Corinthia Farm near Lexington, Ky., that currently owns more than 120 horses, including racing and breeding stock._

The Winchells were co-owners of 2017 Horse of the Year and Breeders' Cup Classic winner Gun Runner, now a stallion at co-owner Three Chimneys Farm. The Winchells bred and raced Untapable, the 2014 Kentucky Oaks and Longines Breeders' Cup Distaff winner and champion 3-year-old filly, and campaigned Gainesway Farm's world-renowned sire Tapit, in whom they still owns 50-percent interest.

Winchell also operates the Jackpot Joanie's chain of gaming-bar outlets, three locations of Winchell's Pub & Grill as well as The Gin Mill and Golden West Restaurant and Casino throughout Greater Las Vegas and elsewhere in Nevada. He also is involved in construction and real-estate development.

Ron Winchell is the son of the late Verne Winchell, founder of Winchell's Donuts empire, later the CEO and chairman of the Denny's restaurant chain and a noted horse owner and breeder who died in 2002 at age 87. Jackpot Joanie's are named for Winchell's mom, Joan, his partner in Winchell Thoroughbreds and Verne's widow. Ron Winchell's passion for racing is a tribute to Verne Winchell's commitment to and history in Kentucky horse racing and breeding.

Through the years, Winchell family runners also have included champions Tight Spot and Mira Femme and the accomplished runners 2012 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile winner Tapizar, 2005 Kentucky Oaks winner Summerly, Tapiture, Pyro, Zanjero, Donut King, Olympio, Sea Cadet, Fleet Renee, Valiant Nature and more recently Finite, 2021 Metropolitan Mile winner Silver State and Preakness runner-up Midnight Bourbon, a leading 3-year-old of 2021.

Winchell Thoroughbreds also was a breeder of Grade 1 winner Paddy O'Prado.

"Some of my fondest early memories are of visiting racetracks with my father, and thoroughbred racing has been a passion of mine ever since," Winchell said when the intent to purchase Kentucky Downs was announced in November 2018. "As such, I am personally thrilled to be carrying our family name into this exciting opportunity to take the reins of Kentucky Downs, one of American racing's great success stories of the past decade. This represents the first step in our plan to further advance racing and HHR (historical horse racing) in the Commonwealth."

"Kentucky Downs is one of horse racing's brightest success stories of this era," he said upon the closing of the sale in March 2019. "We are committed to increasing that trajectory and are looking at options for expanding and improving the overall guest experience. We very much look forward to working with local and state officials, the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission and our sister tracks in Kentucky for the betterment of the commonwealth's signature industry. As I told the racing commission, I have spent my entire life around horse racing, and that passion will be a backdrop for every decision we make."

Marc Falcone
Co-Managing Partner

Marc Falcone brings significant financial and gaming experience to Kentucky Downs, having been a top casino executive and leading financial analyst before teaming with Winchell to form Kentucky Racing Acquisition LLC.

Falcone served as executive vice president, chief financial officer and treasurer of Red Rock Resorts Inc. and Station Casinos from 2011 to 2017. His investment business background includes Goldman Sachs & Co., where he focused on restructuring transactions in the hospitality and gaming sectors; Magnetar Capital, and Deutsche Bank Securities Inc., where as managing director he was recognized as one of the gaming, lodging and leisure industry's top analysts.

"The previous owners were visionaries who saw the potential of Historical Horse Racing as an industry game-changer," Falcone said upon the closing of the sale in March 2019. "They demonstrated not only the financial promise of Kentucky Downs but showed how it could be used to strengthen the entire Kentucky racing circuit and turn Kentucky Downs into a major economic engine for the region. Our focus will be to continue Kentucky Downs' financial success and commitment to the Kentucky racing industry. We've been working hard, and the future looks very promising."

"Kentucky Downs has had a great history here, going back to when it was originally called Dueling Grounds," Falcone told the gathering at the November 2019 ground-breaking for an ambitious, multi-phased expansion and renovation project, the first phase of which was completed in August 2020. "As Ron and I conceptualized what the next phase of expansion would be, it was really taking the next step into creating that broader entertainment destination. We're going to increase food and beverage offerings, increase entertainment offerings, more live music - just a better experience. It's going to be much more exciting, much more fun, much more higher energy — and taking into account the great history that the track has always had in this community.

"This sits in an ideal location, 30 minutes outside of Nashville, an exploding population getting close to two million people. We said, 'Hey, this is 300 acres of an opportunity to do much more than racing and historical horse racing. There are opportunities for much broader things with the real estate we have here long term. We looked at this as a 10- year project to encompass how to maximize and create a destination here in Franklin, Ky."

Ted Nicholson
Vice President of Racing

Ted Nicholson has been a behind-the-scenes difference-maker throughout his career in horse racing. In his first four years at the helm overseeing the Kentucky Downs operation, betting on Historical Horse Racing at the facility increased from $349 million in 2015 to $1.12 billion (the vast majority of which is returned to players) in 2019, an increase of more than 300 percent. Betting on the track's live race meet went from $16.88 million for five days in 2015 to $59,828,441 for six days in 2020, up 255 percent.

A native of Arlington Heights, Ill., and graduate of the University of Arizona's Racetrack Industry Program, Nicholson was assistant general manager at Arlington Park when the new facility opened in 1989 after the track burned in 1985. He was vice president of operations at Suffolk Downs from 1991-1998 during the Boston track's renaissance that saw Cigar twice win the Massachusetts Handicap.

Nicholson returned to Arlington Park under its Churchill Downs Inc. ownership as vice president of operations for the suburban Chicago track before being sent to New Orleans as vice president and general manager of the Fair Grounds Race Course & Slots and its 10 OTB facilities in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. After overseeing that massive restoration process, Nicholson reorganized Calder Race Course in 2008-2009 before leaving horse racing to be the first general manager of Louisville's KFC Yum! Center, opening that state-of-the-art sports and concert facility to great reviews.

History in the Making

Sept. 22, 1826 — The most famous duel to be held on the future site of Kentucky Downs came after Tennessee Congressman Sam Houston unsuccessfully opposed the appointment of a Nashville publisher to the role of Nashville Postmaster. When Houston returned home from Washington, he was promptly challenged to a pistol duel at 15 paces by Gen. William White, a professional duelist standing in for the postmaster, who felt his reputation had been besmirched. Houston gravely wounded White, who eventually recovered. Houston became governor of Tennessee the next year and went on to lead the Texas revolution, becoming president of the Republic of Texas and then senator and governor after Texas became a state.

April 22, 1990 — Lexington horseman Bradley "Mike" Shannon's Simpson County Steeplechase Association holds a one-date meet with both steeplechase and flat racing, headed by the $750,000 International Hurdle, the world's richest jump race. The 1 5/16-mile turf course had been laid down on gently rolling farmland on the Tennessee border and a colonial-style clubhouse built for a total of about $8 million. The track is named Dueling Grounds in a shout-out to the property's early 19th Century heritage as a place for gentlemen to resolve differences with a duel, which was outlawed in Tennessee but legal in Kentucky. A total of $270,627 is wagered on that inaugural four-race card. After a couple of years, Dueling Grounds ditches its initial steeplechase focus for flat racing and adds more dates. The track also becomes mired in financial, legal and political problems.

Oct. 11, 1992 — Dueling Grounds moves to the fall for its third one-date meet. Subsequent race meets, ranging from four to nine days, are held in September.

Feb. 1, 1995 — Shannon sells controlling interest in Dueling Grounds for $4.3 million to Earl and Rita Sinks' newly formed Heirloom Music Corp. based in Nashville.

Aug. 30, 1996 — The Kentucky racing commission shuts down the track after Dueling Grounds fails to set aside the money to pay the $2 million in purses for the 1996 meet.

1996 and 1997 — No racing is held.

July 17, 1997 — Dueling Grounds sells for $11 million in federal bankruptcy court in Louisville to a partnership headed by Turfway Park and Churchill Downs, with other investors including Brad Kelley, the self-made billionaire entrepreneur who grew up in Simpson County; Lexington attorney and developer Brent Rice, and a private investment concern that includes Outback Steakhouse founder and CEO Chris Sullivan. The name is changed to Kentucky Downs to emphasize being part of the Kentucky racing circuit and to shed the unfavorable association to the track's former self. Turfway Park manages the track.

Sept. 23, 2001 — The $300,000 Kentucky Turf Handicap (now the Calumet Farm Kentucky Turf Cup) at 1 1/2 miles becomes the first graded stakes to be run in track history, having been afforded Grade 3 status by the American Graded Stakes Committee.

Oct. 19, 2004 — Brad Kelley becomes Kentucky Downs' majority owner, in part by exchanging $3.2 million in Churchill Downs stock for most of the Louisville track's stake in Kentucky Downs.

March 22, 2007 — The pending sale of 85-percent interest in Kentucky Downs to a partnership headed by investment banker Ray Reid and former Lone Star Park president Corey Johnsen is announced with Brad Kelley, Churchill Downs and Turfway staying in for 5 percent each. The sale closes that summer before the live race meet. The new partnership ultimately buys out the previous owners' minority shares.

July 14, 2011 — The Kentucky Horse Racing Commission approves Kentucky Downs' request to implement Historical Horse Racing machines, which employ cutting-edge technology to marry electronic gaming with the parimutuel wagering system that is a linchpin of American racing. The track projects that purses will rise from $150,000 a day at the meet to $250,000 in 2012.

Sept. 2, 2011 — Kentucky Downs launches Historical Horse Racing (at the time known as Instant Racing) with 200 terminals. The average purse at the live-race meet is $25,660.

Sept. 19, 2012 — In its first meet with purse money generated by Historical Horse Racing, Kentucky Downs closes out five days of racing paying out an average of $417,330 a day and $48,527 per race.

Sept. 9, 2017 — The Kentucky Downs Ladies Turf and Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint are run as Grade 3 races for the first time. A then-track-record $8,487,323 is wagered.

Sept. 8, 2018 — Kentucky Downs breaks the $10 million mark in handle for its 10-race card, with betting totaling $10,039,008. The Kentucky Downs Ladies Sprint is run as a Grade 3 race for the first time, one of four graded stakes on the card.

Sept. 12, 2018 — $7,313,857, then the third-highest in track history is bet on a Wednesday, a card postponed from Sunday after significant rain hit the region.

Sept. 13, 2018 — A total of $7,021,553 is wagered on a Thursday, a record for a Kentucky Downs' closing day and sending wagering on the five-date meet to $36,421,722 — a 20-percent increase over the 2017 record of $30,246,888. Purses total a record $10,233,665.60, not including the $2.9 million in purse money and Kentucky-bred supplements transferred to Ellis Park and $500,000 apiece to Churchill Downs and Keeneland in agreements with horsemen and the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission.

Nov. 13, 2018 — Noted horseman and Las Vegas-based entrepreneur Ron Winchell and prominent gaming executive Marc Falcone announce an agreement to buy all the assets of Kentucky Downs for an undisclosed amount.

Nov. 30, 2018 — The Franklin-Simpson Stakes for 3-year-olds is awarded Grade 3 status for 2019, giving Kentucky Downs five graded stakes out of its 12 stakes that are eligible to be graded by the American Graded Stakes Committee.

Dec. 31, 2018 — Kentucky Downs concludes 2018 with total wagering of $814,541,369 on Historical Horse Racing for the year, an increase of 26.25 percent over the record $645,176,291 in 2017.

March 2019 — The partnership headed by Ron Winchell and Marc Falcone officially take possession of Kentucky Downs.

Sept. 7, 2019 — Michael Hui's Zulu Alpha captures Kentucky Downs' first $1 million race, the Grade 3 Calumet Farm Kentucky Turf Cup, over 2018 winner Arklow. Totally Boss wins the $700,000, Grade 3 RUNHAPPY Turf Sprint (formerly the Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint), the first Breeders' Cup "Win and You're In" Challenge Series race in track history. A record $11,321,492 is wagered on the 10-race card.

Sept. 12, 2019 — The RUNHAPPY Meet at Kentucky Downs concludes its five-date meet again breaking wagering records, with betting from all sources totaling $41,239,699, up 13.2 percent over 2018. Kentucky Downs sets a record for each of the meet's corresponding dates, including the $7,280,542 bet on the closing card. Money paid out to horse owners totals a record $11,520,380, for an average of $230,407 per race. Also in 2019, another $5 million in purses and Kentucky-bred supplements generated at Kentucky Downs is transferred to Ellis Park in agreements with horsemen and the Kentucky Horse Racing Commission.

Oct. 29, 2019 — Kentucky Downs is awarded a sixth racing date for 2020, allowing for the track to run more than five days for the first time since 2008.

Dec. 31, 2019 — Kentucky Downs finishes the year with a record total of $1,120,153,954 wagered on Historical Horse Racing, an increase of 38 percent.

March 19, 2020 — With the COVID-19 virus pandemic, Churchill Downs postpones the Kentucky Derby until Sept. 5 in an agreement with Ellis Park. Kentucky Downs agrees to give up its scheduled opening day, Wednesday, Sept. 2, to Churchill Downs, with Kentucky Downs' new dates for 2020 becoming Sept. 7 (Labor Day), 9, 10, 12, 13 and 16.

June 10, 2020 — Kentucky Downs reopens for Historical Horse Racing and simulcasting after being closed almost three months.

Aug. 18, 2020 — Kentucky Downs announces that because of COVID-19 restrictions and outbreaks, spectators would not be permitted at the race meet, with attendance limited to horsemen and their guests.

Sept. 1, 2020 — Kentucky Downs holds a ribbon-cutting ceremony and Grand Opening of its new 30,000 square-foot expansion to celebrate the rebranding of the gaming side into The Mint Gaming Hall.

Sept. 12, 2020 — A track-record $17,437,731 is wagered on Kentucky Downs' 11-race card, headlined by Arklow taking the $1 million Calumet Turf Cup for the second time in three years.

Dec. 18, 2020 — Kentucky Downs receives its first and second stakes to be elevated to Grade 2 status, with the $1 million Calumet Turf Cup and $600,000 Franklin-Simpson for 3-year-olds elevated from their Grade 3 rating. The Tourist Mile (renamed the WinStar Mint Million for 2021) is awarded Grade 3 status for the first time, giving Kentucky Downs

Dec. 31, 2020 — Even being shuttered almost 25 percent of the year, The Mint Gaming saw $925,811,173 wagering in 2020 on historical horse racing.

April 6, 2021 — Kentucky Downs announces it will have three $1 million races for the first time, adding the $1 million FanDuel Turf Sprint (G3) and $1 million WinStar Mint Million (G3) to the $1 million Calumet Farm (G2).

LEADING JOCKEY

Tyler Gaffalione, one of American racing's rising stars, added his first Kentucky Downs riding title with 11 victories. That was five wins more than two-time defending titlist Jose Ortiz and his brother, reigning Eclipse Award-winning jockey Irad Ortiz.

Gaffalione ended the meet with a bang, his three wins on the closing card capped by Guildsman's victory in the Grade 3 Franklin-Simpson Stakes in his final mount of the meet. The jockey also won the $500,000 Mint Juvenile Fillies (now the Aristocrat Gaming Juvenile Fillies) aboard Plum Ali and the $500,000 Real Solution Ladies Sprint (now the $600,000 The Mint Ladies Sprint) with Got Stormy.

"This was incredible. This is such a fun place to ride," said Gaffalione, the 2015 Eclipse Award-winning apprentice jockey. "I always enjoy coming here every year. All the credit goes to my agent (Matt Muzikar). He's really done a great job getting ready for this meet. He told me we were really loaded. I just had to show up and get the job done. A lot of credit goes to all the horsemen who got the horses ready. Hopefully we can do it again next year."

Gaffalione, who turns 27 on Sept. 12, also earned the jockey money title at $1,619,461.

"We always want to be leading rider, but the main thing is they give away so much money so you try to get the money title here more than anything," Gaffalione said. "But it's always great to get as many wins as possible. Great venue, great racing here. Lot of class horses showed up."

LEADING TRAINER

Mike Maker, already the track's all-time win leader, earned a record fifth meet training crown with eight victories out of a meet-high 56 starters, including four wins on one card. That nipped Wesley Ward's seven wins out of 31 starts, denying Ward his own fifth title.

"It was a good meet, deep and competitive," Maker said. "Like everything else, wish we'd won a few more but that's racing. Always fun to come here and to do well. We have so many turf horses. It's nice that when we can get an abundance of them in on any given day and know we're coming over here live."

Maker now has won 63 races in his career at Kentucky Downs. His four-year streak of meet titles ended last year when his three wins were one shy of sharing the crown with Ward, Joe Sharp and Ian Wilkes. But even in 2020, when he had a track-record 15 seconds, he won the money title at $1.4 million.

Noting that the seconds and thirds can be lucrative at Kentucky Downs, Maker said, "For sure. Pays a lot of bills."

This year Maker finished fourth in money ($823,321), with that title won by four-time Eclipse Award-winning trainer Chad Brown at $980,375.

LEADING OWNER

Three Diamonds Farm's father-son team of Kirk and Jordan Wycoff are East Coast guys, but trainer Mike Maker has increasingly convinced them to make Kentucky Downs a priority in addition to Saratoga. The payoff was their first Kentucky Downs owner's title in 2020 with four victories out of 12 starters, with a second and two thirds.

Three Diamonds is named for Kirk and Debra Wycoff's three children: Kirby, Ashley and Jordan.

Kirk Wycoff is managing partner of the Philadelphia-based private equity firm Patriot Financial Partners. Jordan Wycoff is Three Diamonds' managing partner. The Wycoffs started their racing operation in the Mid-Atlantic with Maryland-based trainer Michael Trombetta in the mid-2000s. Kirk Wycoff increased his racing stable after teaming in 2010 with Maker, to whom he was attracted because of the trainer's ability to claim horses and turn them into stakes winners. That includes Bigger Picture, claimed for $32,000 in 2015 and an eventual Grade 1 winner and $1.66 million-earner who finished a close second in Kentucky Downs' 2018 Calumet Turf Cup.

Paulick Report's Chelsea Hackbarth reports that Kirk Wycoff took riding lessons as a young man in Pennsylvania and acquired his training license at Penn National as a hobby during college — including mucking out 40 stalls every morning before heading to class. Debra Wycoff, whom Kirk met through racing 44 years ago, continues to ride horses and is an amateur show-jumper.

Brian Hernandez has won 51 of 302 mounts and earned $3,624,636 in purses at Kentucky Downs since first riding at the track in 2004. A Louisville-area resident, Hernandez won the 2008 and 2012 Kentucky Downs riding titles. He has seven Kentucky Downs stakes wins: 2019 Old Friends (Get Western), 2018 Franklin-Simpson (Angaston), 2017 Kentucky Downs Ladies Turf (Lull), 2016 Exacta Systems Juvenile Fillies (Lull), 2013 KD Juvenile (Boji Moon), 2012 Franklin-Simpson (Depeche Chat), 2006 Yaqthan (Tolhwin Type). Hernandez won the 2012 Breeders' Cup Classic aboard Fort Larned. He was the Eclipse Award winner as outstanding apprentice jockey in 2004, when he rode at Evangeline and Delta Downs at nights during the week and at Churchill Downs on weekends until graduating from high school in Lafayette, La., after which he began riding full time in Kentucky. Hernandez won the 2012 Breeders' Cup Classic aboard Fort Larned, who the previous year won a Kentucky Downs allowance race.

Ken and Sarah Ramsey of Nicholasville, Ky., have won nine Kentucky Downs owner titles dating to 2009, including a record nine wins at the 2013 meet. The winningest owners in the history of Kentucky racing, the Ramseys have won 47 races out of 195 starters and $4,197,574 in purses at Kentucky Downs. The Ramseys won the Eclipse Award as North America's outstanding owner in 2004 (when they campaigned the male turf champion and future leading turf sire Kitten's Joy), 2011, 2013 and 2014 and were voted outstanding breeder in 2013. They led North America in earnings in 2013, 2014 and 2016. Kentucky Downs stakes wins: 2020 Tapit Stakes (Ramsey Solution), 2018 KD Juvenile Turf Sprint (Moonlight Romance), 2017 Kentucky Turf Cup (Oscar Nominated), 2017 Ramsey Farm (Kitten's Roar), 2017 Old Friends (Sir Dudley Digges) 2016 More Than Ready Mile (Watchyou-rownbobber), 2016 Dueling Grounds Derby (Oscar Nominated), 2016 KD Ladies Marathon (Al's Gal), 2013 KD Juvenile Fillies (Lien On Kitten), KD Turf Dash (Longhunter), Franklin-Simpson Mile (Coalport), 2011 Franklin-Simpson Mile (Cozy Kitten), 2001 Pleasant Temper (Silent Emotions), 2001 (Karly's Harley).

With eight wins out of 55 starters, Mike Maker earned his fifth training title in 2020 to go along with his record four straight crowns, 2015-2018, to further stamp himself as Kentucky Downs' all-time leader with 63 victories out of a record 356 starters for purse earnings of $8,259,886. That includes winning the track's signature Calumet Turf Cup three times as part of his record 13 Kentucky Downs stakes victories. The title streak ended in 2019 when Maker won three races but had a record 14 seconds out of 48 starters. However, one of those wins was the $1 million Kentucky Turf Cup with Michael Hui's Zulu Alpha. Maker, the son of the late Michigan-based trainer George Maker, trained in 1993 but didn't resume his own stable until 2003 following a long stint working for Hall of Fame trainer D. Wayne Lukas. Maker has earned a reputation for claiming horses and turning them into graded-stakes winners, especially going longer distances on turf. Pre-2019 Kentucky Downs stakes wins: 2018 KD Juvenile (Henley's Joy), 2017 Kentucky Turf Cup (Oscar Nominated), 2017 KD Turf Sprint (Hogy), 2017 Ramsey Farm (Kitten's Roar), 2017 Old Friends (Sir Dudley Digges), 2016 Kentucky Turf Cup (Da Big Hoss), 2016 More Than Ready Mile (Watchyourownbobber), 2016 Dueling Grounds Derby (Oscar Nominated), 2016 KD Ladies Marathon (Al's Gal), 2016 Dueling Grounds, 2015 Kentucky Turf Cup (Da Big Hoss), 2013 KD Turf Dash (Longhunter). Most of his wins have been for major clients Ken and Sarah Ramsey, Michael Hui, 2020 leading owner Three Diamonds Farms and Skychai Racing.

KENTUCKY DOWNS TRACK RECORDS

Why There Are No Course Records at Kentucky Downs at This Time

Kentucky Downs is not designating course records at this time because a new GPS timing system installed last year and a new rail system put in this year that renders irrelevant previous race-time comparisons. The 1 5/16-mile course was placed down in a field in 1990 when Kentucky Downs opened as Dueling Grounds as predominantly a steeple-chase course. Kentucky Downs' race distances have been measured the most accurately for this meet of any time in track history. Also, the gate placement is changing for some races with the new rail system. Therefore, 2021 will be the baseline year going forward for course records.

America's Most Unique Racemeet

Totaled a record $59,828,441 in all-sources wagering on 2020's six-date meet, averaging $9,971,407 per day while spanning 62 races.
Paid out record $11,668,473 in purses in 2020, for $1,944,745 in average daily purses, highest in world outside of Japan.
Raced five graded stakes and 16 stakes spread over six days.
Averaged 10 horses per race, among the highest in North America. Stakes averaged 10.25 horses per race.
Paid out $750 to every horse finishing sixth through 12th (will be $1,000 in 2021).
Kentucky Downs for the first time utilized Equibase Co.'s Gmax timing and tracking system based on GPS technology, which along with additional high-definition cameras made the broadcast viewing of races much better. Previously, all of Kentucky Downs' races were hand-timed.

2020 STAKES RECAP | ARKLOW

Donegal Racing's Arklow, at age 6 racing in blinkers for the first time, became only the third two-time winner of Kentucky Downs' richest race, the $1 million Calumet Farm Kentucky Turf Cup (now the $1 million Calumet Turf Cup), taking the Grade 3 stakes by 1 1/4 lengths over Red Knight. As with his victory in 2018 and runner-up performance last year to Zulu Alpha, Arklow was ridden by Kentucky Downs' 2015-2016 meet titlist Florent Geroux. He joins Rochester (2002-2003) and Da Big Hoss (2015-16) as the Grade 3 stakes only two-time winners.

"It's easy to say it now, but we had a lot of confidence that he would move forward with the blinkers," said winning trainer Brad Cox. "This is something we circle on the calendar: this race, every year."

The 1 1/2-mile Calumet Turf Cup became a Grade 2 race as well as a "Win And You're In" fees-paid qualifier to the $4 million Longines Breeders' Cup Turf in 2021.

2020 STAKES RECAP | IMPRIMIS

One year after getting beat as the favorite in the $700,000 RUNHAPPY Turf Sprint Stakes (now the $1 million FanDuel Turf Sprint), Imprimis got up by a neck under Irad Ortiz Jr. over dead-heat runners-up Front Run the Fed and Bombard to capture the Grade 3 stakes at six furlongs.

The victory gave Imprimis a fees-paid spot in the $1 million Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint as part of the Breeders' Cup "Win and You're In" Challenge Series program.

"I expected this effort. But this was a tough race," said trainer Joe Orseno. "There were some quality horses in there. I mean, the Breeders' Cup won't be any tougher."

2020 STAKES RECAP | REGAL GLORY

Regal Glory got away from her stablemates and the result was a neck victory over Mitchell Road in the $500,000, Grade 3 Kentucky Downs Ladies Turf, the second stakes victory of the meet for trainer Chad Brown. Regal Glory had been beaten by Grade 1-winning stablemates in her prior three starts since winning a trio of stakes last year.

“Chad is doing fantastic here in his first year and his horses are doing fantastic, too,” said Jose Ortiz, Kentucky Downs’ 2018-19 leading jockey. “I’m glad he came here. He’s one of the best trainers in the nation, so why not be here?”

The Kentucky Downs victory proved especially poignant as it was the last victory for owner-breeder Paul Pompa, who died unexpectedly a month later. Regal Glory was sold at dispersal in January for $925,000 to Brown client Peter Brant.

2020 STAKES RECAP | GOT STORMY

Gary Barber's Got Stormy, a multiple Grade 1 winner who was second in the 2019 Breeders' Cup Mile, had never sprinted before exploding down the stretch under 2020 leading rider Tyler Gaffalione to take the $500,000, Grade 3 Kentucky Downs Ladies Sprint at 6 1/2 furlongs by 3 1/4 lengths over Winning Envelope.

"We always felt that way," trainer Mark Casse said of Got Stormy racing at shorter distances, "but there's never been an opportunity. For $500,000, we figured this would be a good time to do it."

Now The Mint Ladies Sprint, the Grade 3 stakes carries a $600,000 purse in 2021.

2020 STAKES RECAP | GUILDSMAN (FR)

Tyler Gaffalione capped his first riding title at Kentucky Downs as Qatar Racing's French-bred 9-1 shot Guildsman came from far back to beat 21-shot Island Commish by a neck in the $500,000, Grade 3 Franklin-Simpson Stakes.

The Brendan Walsh-trained Guildsman provided the 26-year-old Gaffalione his meet-leading 11th win. "My agent has done an incredible job preparing for this meet," he said of Matt Muzikar. "I'm so thrilled for Brendan. We've been trying to hook up with this colt. The distance was key today, just a little extra ground."

Qatar Racing won the Franklin-Simpson for the second straight year, being the co-owner of 2019 winner Doug O'Neill-trained winner Legends of War. "It certainly made Sheikh Fahad a big fan of Kentucky Downs," said his representative, Fergus Galvin. "He's already wanting to stock up the stable to point to the meeting next year." The stakes earned Grade 2 designation for 2021 and received a purse hike to $600,000.

2020 STAKES RECAP | FLAVIUS

Juddmonte Farms' homebred Flavius surged to the lead in midstretch and held off a late charge from defending champion Snapper Sinclair to win the $750,000 Tourist Mile (now the $1 million WinStar Mint Million) by three-quarters of a length.

It was four-time Eclipse Award-winning trainer Chad Brown's first stakes victory at Kentucky Downs. "All the time before he was too far back, and he always came late," said jockey Javier Castellano. "Today he put me in good position. When I asked him, he responded so well. Maybe he liked the track today, European style, up and down, curves."

Ivar, who finished fifth in the stakes, won Keeneland's Grade 1 Shadwell Turf Mile in his next start to earn a fees-paid spot in the $2 million Breeders' Cup Mile, where his fourth place was the best by an America-based horse. The Mint Million earned Grade 3 status for the first time in 2021.

2020 STAKES RECAP | BARRISTER TOM

Coming off a maiden win at Arlington Park, Barrister Tom gave jockey Tyler Baze his first Kentucky Downs victory in style, taking the $500,000 Kentucky Downs Juvenile by a half-length over Pivotal Mission at 44-1 odds.

"What a nice little horse," Baze said. "He's got a lot of heart. It was nice for them to let me ride the horse. I don't know what he paid. I know he was about 50-1. I'm just excited."

Said trainer Michael Ann Ewing, who races as Bantry Farms: "I am thrilled. If you adjust his last race for pace, his figure came back with a good number. He has trained awesomely since that race and I was hopeful."

2020 STAKES RECAP | PLUM ALI

Trainer Christophe Clement won the $500,000 The Mint Juvenile Fillies (now the Aristocrat Juvenile Fillies) for the third time since 2016 as Plum Ali took command in midstretch and drew off to a 2 3/4-length victory over Flown.

Said Clement assistant trainer Roger Horgan: “She has been special since Day One. We never cranked on her before her first start because she was going to run long. This was actually an audible. She was going to run at Saratoga, but it got rained off the turf. So we came here for five times the money.”

Plum Ali ran her record to 3-for-3 by subsequently taking Belmont’s Grade 2 Miss Grillo.

Wesley Ward not only kept his record as the only trainer to win Kentucky Downs' $500,000 Kentucky Downs Juvenile Turf Sprint (now the Global Tote Juvenile Sprint) in its three-year history, he also saddled the exacta finish as Outadore out-finished stablemate Fauci by 1 3/4 lengths over soft turf.

"Isn't that what you're supposed to do?" Ward joked of remaining unbeaten in the stakes. Outadore was one of three stakes wins at the meet for Irad Ortiz Jr., North America's two-time defending Eclipse Award-winning jockey. Ward won seven races at the meet, including the $300,000 Tapit Stakes with Ramsey Solution, owned by Kentucky Downs' all-time win leaders Ken and Sarah Ramsey.

Outadore stretched out to a mile to finish third in the $1 million Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf.

2020 STAKES RECAP | MOON OVER MIAMI

Trainer Bill Mott rolled the dice in shipping Summer Wind Equine's Moon Over Miami to Kentucky Downs the morning of the $750,000 Gun Runner Dueling Ground Derby (now the Big Ass Fans Dueling Grounds Derby), needing a scratch to get the colt in the capacity field of twelve 3-year-olds running 1 5/16 miles.

That happened, and Moon Over Miami engaged front-running Big Dreaming in mid-stretch to power home for a half-length victory under Javier Castellano. "We sent him down with our fingers crossed," said assistant trainer Kenny McCarthy. "It doesn't often work out like that. We got a little bit of racing lucky in every which way." In May, Moon Over Miami finished third Belmont Park's Grade 1 Man 'o War by a nose and a neck.

2020 STAKES RECAP | MICHELINE

Godolphin's Micheline, sent off at 10-1, ran down favored Harvey's Lil Goil in the final strides to win the $500,000 Exacta Systems Dueling Grounds Oaks by a neck. Micheline has been a labor of love for trainer Michael Stidham.

The filly gets claustrophobic in a conventional barn stall and thus has an open-air, covered outdoor stall at Stidham's Fair Hill base and portable stall when she's on the road. "It's been a journey with her, and it's been well worth it," Stidham said. "She really doesn't do anything crazy. But if you put her in a barn she will get crazy."

In their next start, Harvey's Lil Goil turned the tables on Micheline, taking Keeneland's Grade 1 Queen Elizabeth II Challenge Cup in a 1-2 Kentucky Downs exacta.

2020 STAKES RECAP | THEODORA B

Theodora B. held off a late charge by favored Mrs. Sippy to win the $500,000 Kentucky Downs Ladies Marathon (known as the TVG Stakes last year) for fillies and mares by three-quarters of length while never seriously threatened.

“She broke in front. I didn’t want to fight with her too much,” said jockey Irad Ortiz Jr., who spent his first meet at Kentucky Downs. “She relaxed going up the hill, going down the hill, waiting for me. When I called, she was there.” Theodora B. shipped in from trainer Michael Dickinson’s training center in Maryland.

The 1 5/16-mile stakes received a purse increase to $550,000 this year.

German-born Dalika battled for the lead, then drew off in the stretch for a length victory over Madita in the $300,000 One Dreamer Stakes for fillies and mares that hadn't won a stakes in 2020. Even though Dalika wasn't eligible for the Kentucky-bred money, she still earned $86,490 for winning a restricted stakes.

"Nice filly for Al," jockey Miguel Mena said, referring to trainer Al Stall Jr. "He was hitting the board with her in Saratoga … She's always been right there. She broke very good, she was loving her position, loving the course, too. She was the best horse today."

Dalika went on to win a pair of stakes at the Fair Grounds as well as Delaware Park's Grade 3 Robert G. Dick Memorial in July. The One Dreamer will be worth $400,000 in 2021.

2020 STAKES RECAP | RAMSEY SOLUTION

The 4-year-old gelding Ramsey Solution made his stakes debut a winner by defeating Midnight Tea Time in the $300,000 Tapit Stakes for horses that had not won a prior stakes in 2020. The outcome capped a huge day for trainer Wesley Ward and jockey Gerardo Corrales, who combined to win three races. Ramsey Solution is owned by Kentucky Downs' all-time win leaders Ken and Sarah Ramsey.

"I've been really excited about this guy from the word go," Ward said of Ramsey Solution, a homebred son of the Calumet Farm stallion Real Solution, with whom the Ramseys won the Grade 1 Arlington Million. "... I'm excited how he came through for Mr. Ramsey. He's the guy who kind of made me back here. To come through for him on a big money, big day like this, it makes him happy more than anybody."

The stakes has been renamed the TVG Stakes and will carry a $400,000 purse in 2021.

2020 STAKES RECAP | LIGHTHOUSE

LNJ Foxwoods' Lighthouse, taking the inaugural $400,000 Music City Stakes for 3-year-old fillies by 1 1/2 lengths over Miss J McKay, sent rising star Umberto Rispoli home to California with a winner out of only two mounts after spending most of a week in town in his Kentucky Downs debut.

"When they postponed the races, I could have traveled back for the meeting at Santa Anita," said the Italian-born Rispoli, adding of trainer Simon Callaghan, "When Simon ships a horse, he's always confident. I waited three more days and I'm so happy to go back home with a winner."

Now the Nelson's Green Brier Whiskey Music City, the stakes will offer a $500,000 purse in 2021.

Breeders' Cup Challenge Series

Two Kentucky Downs stakes races have been designated as Breeders' Cup Challenge Series races for the 2021 season - the G2 Calumet Kentucky Turf Cup and the G3 FanDuel Turf Sprint. Both races are now 'Win and You're In' qualifiers for the 2021 Breeders' Cup World Championships at Del Mar Racecourse in San Diego, California.

For the first time, the $1 million Calumet Turf Cup (G2) will be a "Win and You're In" qualifier for the $4 million Longines Breeders' Cup Turf (G1), joining the $1 million Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint (G3) that two years ago became an automatic qualifier for the $1 million Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint (G1).

The Calumet Turf Cup, for older horses at 1 1/2 miles, will be run as a Grade 2 stakes for the first time, having been promoted from a Grade 3 by the American Graded Stakes Committee. The Grade 3 Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint is receiving a $250,000 purse increase to $1 million, including $450,000 in Kentucky-bred purse supplements from the Kentucky Thoroughbred Development Fund.

Even with its $550,000 base purse, the six-furlong Kentucky Downs race looms as America's richest turf sprint outside the Breeders' Cup. The Calumet Turf Cup's base purse also is $550,000.

The G2 $1,000,000 Calumet Kentucky Turf Cup will be held Saturday, September 11th at a distance of 1 1/2 miles. The G3 $1,000,000 FanDuel Turf Sprint will also be run on the September 11th card, at a distance of six furlongs. Both races are open to horses three years old and up.
